

ABD Architecture LLC claims Silver Award from the prestigious A' Design Award & Competition

Sapporo, Japan, May 14, 2024 /DesignPRWire/

ABD Architecture LLC, an architectural design firm based in Sapporo, Hokkaido, is honoured and proud to receive the Silver Award from the prestigious Italian award competition A' Design & Competition for their Grand Tsuru project. Surrounded by silver birch trees, this 3 ski villa development project seamlessly incorporates traditional Japanese timber framing and modern lines to craft luxury experiences for select international buyers.

ABD Architecture's Grand Tsuru Wins A'Design Silver Award: Celebrating Design Excellence

Grand Tsuru Niseko, based on a conceptual design that gracefully blends traditional Japanese elements with modern lines, achieved the esteemed A' Design Silver Award for its architectural creativity. Inspired by the grace of a crane ("tsuru" in Japanese) taking its flight and the breathtaking beauty of its surroundings, Grand Tsuru Niseko, a development of 3 ski high-end rental properties in the core of Niseko's silver birch tree forest, embodies the essence of tranquility and sophistication. Designed to harmonize with its environment, Grand Tsuru Niseko boasts extended eaves and wood louvers, creating a sense of weightlessness and serenity. Each of the three 250 m² properties features spacious living areas, two guest bedrooms, and a Japanese-style master bedroom, offering a haven of comfort and cultural immersion. Located in the picturesque town of Niseko, home of the renowned international ski resort of the same name, Grand Tsuru Niseko is meticulously crafted for both winter and summer living, with a snow-shedding roof, covered balconies, and a ski room. Special attention has been given to ensuring warmth and insulation in the cold climate, making it an ideal retreat for ski enthusiasts and nature lovers alike. ABD Architecture LLC's team, led by its Founder & CEO Franck Giral and Architect Pierre Biard, spearheaded the design, using Building Information Modeling (BIM) software, used to model the project entirely in 3D, along with a dedicated 3D rendering software for high quality renderings of the design. "This Silver Award from the esteemed Italian design competition A' Design Award & Competition for Grand Tsuru Niseko is a testament to the dedication to architectural excellence and attention to details of ABD Architecture LLC's team. We hope that this project is only the first in a long line of award-winning architectural works." (Franck Giral, CEO and Founder) ABD Architecture LLC thanks the developer for entrusting ABD Architecture LLC to bring expertise, professionalism and excellence in design to the project. With the construction already under way as of May 2024 and completion scheduled for November 2024, Grand Tsuru Niseko promises to redefine luxury living upon the ski slopes of Niseko. This prestigious accolade affirms ABD Architecture LLC's position as a beacon of design excellence.
